Family Worship Creed

“As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord.”

Joshua 24:15

We will put God first—above every schedule, pursuit, and priority—seeking Him daily with sincere hearts and serving Him with all that we are. He will not be an addition to our lives, but the foundation of our home.

(Matthew 6:33; Deuteronomy 6:5; Psalm 127:1; Colossians 1:18)

We will remember His faithfulness—never forgetting what He’s done, how He’s led us, and where He’s brought us. We will speak often of His goodness, give thanks for His grace, and pass down His works with joy and reverence to the next generation.

(Psalm 78:4–7; Deuteronomy 6:20–25; Psalm 103:2; Lamentations 3:22–23)

We will remove anything that stands in the way of wholehearted worship—tearing down idols, confessing sin, rejecting divided loyalties, and choosing repentance over religion. We will incline our hearts fully to the Lord.

(Joshua 24:14–23; 1 John 1:9; James 4:8; 2 Corinthians 7:1; Deuteronomy 30:17–20)

We will live today with tomorrow in mind—knowing that our choices shape our children, and our decisions echo into the future. We will walk wisely, love sacrificially, and build our lives on what lasts.

(Ephesians 5:15–17; Proverbs 13:22; Matthew 7:24–25; 2 Timothy 1:5)

And we will not waver in our commitment. We declare our allegiance to the Lord without shame or hesitation—standing firm in our faith, leading our home with conviction, and making it clear: as for us, we will serve the Lord.

(Romans 1:16; 1 Corinthians 15:58; Joshua 24:15; 1 Kings 18:21)
