4 Ways to Encourage Generosity in Your Home

1. Learn It

We choose generosity because we worship a generous God. The Bible is full of examples of what it means to be generous and how to live a generous life.

Here are a few passages to get you started:

- John 3:16
- 2 Kings 4:1-7
- 1 Corinthians 9:6-14
- Matthew 25:14-30

2. Discuss It

Create spaces for your entire family to openly discuss what a generous life looks like. A great way to do this is to ask open ended questions. Here are a few examples:

- How has God been generous to you?
- How do you feel when you choose to be generous to others with your time, talent and treasures?
- How can we demonstrate generosity this week?

3. Model It

What's celebrated is often what's repeated. When generosity is modeled in the home it can be celebrated, discussed, and even repeated. Here are a few ways you can model generosity for your family:

- Show your kids what your giving process looks like (check, online, text, etc.)
- Share where you serve and the responsibilities involved
- Research the causes you are giving to together

4. Live It

Generosity becomes a reality when kids are invited to partake. Choose to be generous as a family and give together. Here are some practical ways to live that out:

- Give an allowance and decide whether to give back one day, one week, one month or one year's worth
- Set a financial goal as a family and pursue it together
- Give your kids ownership in specific areas to give and celebrate their giving
